A "yes" vote will amend the City Charter requiring any decision to raise or add to City taxes, fees, fines, penalties, charges or other revenue generating mechanisms being sent to the popular vote during general elections in May or November. The amendment excepts those charges otherwise subject to voter approval or subject to standards provided by state law, and excepts those raises or additions that do not exceed the most recent Social Security Cost of Living increase. The amendment also excepts revenue generated through rents, leases, sale of property or contracts. A "no" vote will leave revenue generation methods with the City Council, where additions and raises are currently subject to a public hearing requirement.
